

BLUEBIRD

GENERAL INFORMATION

The venue opened in May 1997 on the site of an original 1920's garage on the King's Road. Now, ten years on, the fashionable Chelsea restaurant and bar will undergo an extensive redesign of the interior and will offer a new menu.

The interior has been designed by Conran & Partners, and will be a dramatic modernisation of this light and airy space. The dining room will feature furniture combining classic British designs with contemporary pieces, while colours shift to warm chocolate browns and deep reds, adding intimacy to the lofty space. The height of the ceiling has enabled the installation of bespoke chandeliers; a glass structure will hang above the bar, while three steel plate chandeliers, designed by young British designer 'Hotcakes', will feature in the restaurant.

The Bluebird Bar is a destination bar in its own right and will feature classic cocktails, selected spirits, and Champagne and wines by the glass all served in a relaxed lounge environment.

The Main Restaurant and Bar:

Situated on the first floor and accessible via the lift or stairs, the restaurant recently refurbish is suspended from the steel roof structure with its cathedral like nave running down the centre of the room is the perfect area for large dinners or standing receptions

The Mezzanine Room

the room can offer total seclusion and privacy with the use of blinds, or these can be raised so that the theatre of the restaurant below may be watched and enjoyed

Bluebird Gallery Room:

The Gallery room offers a beautiful light airy space for events, with extensive natural daylight and the interest of a wine wall the room is perfect for seated lunches and dinners up to 80.

The Beaufort Room

Located within the gallery is excellent for private dinners, lunches or meetings seating 24 or up to 70 for a reception.
